From the Blog

by IA member Wendy Dixon Whiley.

Why we need each other

Sometimes the pieces of the puzzle come together, but it's not just luck or skill that makes this happen. We can't succeed without the help of others, and I am grateful every day for the big and small acts of generosity by others...

Committee News

We need you

You can be a committee volunteer from anywhere in Australia! We meet online and work digitally. Being a committee volunteer is also an amazing opportunity to develop your skills and learn more about business administration, event management, marketing and more. Not to mention you get to hang with a great group of people every month.

There are also other roles the committee needs to fill.

Do you want to learn more?

Exhibitions

Canberra from November 30, 2023 and will be on display for a year. See additional interstate tour dates below

Behind the lines 2023 – Museum of Australian Democracy at Old Parliament House

Behind the Lines 2023 showcases the year in political cartoons.

Featuring established and emerging cartoonists from across Australia, this exhibition highlights the significant contribution they make to cultural and political debate through witty, insightful and often poignant satirical drawings, paintings, GIFs and sculptures.

For 2023 the Behind the Lines exhibition theme is 'All Fun and Games', reflecting a year where political party games were being played in parliament and featured in Australia's daily news.

Get to Canberra, view online, or see it on tour in other states during 2024
